THE TRIP

Before listening to the story

Lead in...

1. How do you and your family find the way when you are going someplace you haven't been before? Do you use a map, ask people for directions, do you try to find your way on your own or do you use a GPS?
2. How do you think people in old times, before GPS and maps, found their way when they were going somewhere they had never been before?

After listening to the story

Discussion

GPS is short for
Global Positioning System

A few years ago a boat went straight into a lighthouse in the archipelago. The investigation afterwards found that the captain had followed the GPS instructions instead of looking at the waters ahead, and the GPS system wasn't totally accurate.

- What conclusions can be drawn from examples like this?
- What advantages have the GPS system brought?
- What disadvantages can there be?
- Have you ever used a GPS? When? Where?

- What do you think Anna's parents would think and feel after the trip if they had realised that their daughter had tried to warn them about the car? Write what they say to her.
- Draw or paint a picture of the mountain with the dangerous road that Anna's family was driving on. Make sure you get the trees, the stone walls, the farmhouses and the donkey!
- Write an alternative ending to the story!
- Write a story about a machine with a life of its own!

Read the map, follow the instructions!

- Turn left at James Avenue and then turn right at Sun Street. Go straight ahead on Sun Street. Stop when you hit Queen Street. What is in front of you?
- Go straight ahead on Garden Road until you reach Queen Street. Turn left on Queen Street and then left again on Flower Street. Look towards Garden Road. What do you have on your left hand side?
- Test yourselves! Work in pairs and take turns instructing each other on how to get to different parts of the city.
