Bingo

Now it's time to play bingo! Choose from the words below and write them in the table. Write one word in each square.

Your teacher calls one word at the time, and if you have written that word down you cross it over.

When you get four words in a row you shout "bingo!". After one row, you play for two rows etc.

You can play this in different ways:

1. You do it all in English.
2. You write the words in English but call them out in Swedish.

Writing

You work as a journalist for the town's paper and you covered the story of Christine's accident a couple of months ago. Yesterday you got a call from someone who told you that Christine's best friend Jen and her mother are missing. Even their dog is gone. You decide to write an article on their disappearance.

(Tip! Use the pictures to help you remember the story.)

Paper: tidning

Covered the story: skrev om händelsen

Article: artikel

Disappearance: försvinnande

How to write an article

Before you start writing your article, you must learn how to do it. Below are the most important things to think about when you write an article.

(Tip! After reading and learning, read an article together and try to find the answers to the questions below.)

An article answers the questions:

- What happened?
- When did it happen?
- Where did it happen?
- Who were involved?
- Why did it happen?

An article consists of: (en artikel består av)

1. Rubrik. (Headline) Den ska väcka intresse och läsaren ska förstå vad artikeln handlar om.
2. Ingress. (Introduction) En kort sammanfattning av artikeln. (därför skriver man den sist). Den ska vara lockande och svara på frågorna: Vad? Var? När? Vem? Den skrivs ofta med tjockare bokstäver.
3. Brödtext. (Text body) Det är själva texten. Här ska läsaren få all information om vad som hänt. Glöm inte att beskriva platsen/personerna noga, det gör artikeln intressantare.
