After Listening: Discuss!

In the final news story, we learnt about how the BRIT Awards only nominated male artists, although they had changed the name of the award to include more non-binary and/or female artists. Even this week's news programme was dominated by men.

Why is representation of diverse people so important?

What does inclusivity and representation of diverse people mean to you?

How do you think it feels for diverse people when they see representation on TV and in other media?

How can you ensure diverse people in your life feel safe? At school? After school? At home?

What kind of things can the adults around you do to include more diverse people in their lives?

Discuss with a classmate!
