av Kate Holland

Hi, and welcome to Newsreel Easy. I'm Kate Holland.

Coming up:

- How far would you drive to help strangers?

Dan Carrier: We went from France, into Belgium, into Holland into Germany and into Poland.

But first:

Protests in the Caribbean

Some people in the Caribbean were angry at the Queen's grandson, Prince William's, recent visit.

One protestor told Television Jamaica:

Protestor: This visit is a continuation of the British occupation of much of the Caribbean, and the continued disrespect of Jamaica's independence from Britain.

More people in the Caribbean are saying they don't want their country to be part of the Commonwealth.

The Commonwealth is a group of countries made up of the UK and 53 former British Colonies including Jamaica and the Bahamas.

Prince William told people in the Bahamas:

royal family
kungafamiljen grandson
barnbarn
recent nyligen
protestor

Prince William: We support with pride and respect your decisions about your future.

A Helping Hand

Now, how far would you travel to help someone?

Dan Carrier, a journalist from London, drove 1,500km to take donations to Poland for Ukrainians who had escaped the war.

He collected thousands of items from his neighbours including toys, clothes, and medicine.

I spoke to Dan. How was your drive to Poland?

Dan Carrier: We went from France, into Belgium, into Holland into Germany and into Poland. And it was interesting seeing the sights as we were driving through beautiful countryside, major towns which we'd all heard of. It was quite a straightforward drive. It started getting a little bit scary when we got to Poland because we could see large military transport lorries on the road.

How did people react when you got to Poland?

Dan Carrier: Their reaction was lovely. They said it was really good to know that people in London were thinking of them, and they thought it was nice that we'd driven all that way to say hello and bring them lots and lots of really good stuff.

Tom Holt and his friend Nathan have been driving refugees out of Ukraine and into nearby countries. So far they've helped nearly 50 people escape the war.

Tom told me they've now started trying to help in a different way

Tom Holt: Most recently, we have focussed our efforts on delivering food and medical supplies, which has seen us visit most bordering countries as we go where it is needed the most.

Why have you decided to do this?

Tom Holt: I decided to come out and help after seeing men, women and children being forced from their lives and homes. And if I could come and make any difference at all, it would be worth it.

And finally:

Actress Makes History

Will Smith slapping Chris Rock was the top story from the Oscars.

So you might have missed Ariana DeBose becoming the first queer woman of colour to win an Oscar.

Queer means someone who is not heterosexual or cisgender.

She won the Oscar for Best Supporting Actress for playing Anita in West Side Story where she sang....

Ariana and West Side Story cast members: I like to be in America, Okay by me in America. Everything free in America. For a small fee in America.

Thanks for listening and speak to you all next time.

Goodbye!
