av Carrie Morrison

Hi, and welcome to Newsreel Easy. I'm Carrie Morrison. Coming up:

- Should people sing along to musicals in the theatre?

But first...

NASA's 3D printed Mars

The American Space Agency, NASA, has announced that four people will be living in a 3D printed version of Mars for a whole year.

The project starts in June and the four volunteers – who are not astronauts – will be pretending to be crew members on a trip to Mars.

They will be doing tasks like spacewalks, growing food, and working with robots.

Theatre etiquette – the fight in Manchester

Have you ever been to a musical or a play? It's a fun experience where you can watch actors perform on stage. But what happens when some people in the audience start singing along too loudly?

Sound: footage from the musical

That's what happened recently at a musical called The Bodyguard in Manchester. Two people refused to stop singing and it caused a fight. This led to the show being stopped and the police were called.

Afterwards the show's star, Melody Thornton, apologised to fans in a social media video.

Melody Thornton: I just am very, very sorry that we couldn't finish the show. It feels awful.

förfärligt

And what do people in the UK think about this? I've been speaking to people across London.

Billie: Hi I'm Billie.

Alisha: Hi my name is Alisha Kumar.

Carrie: So what are your thoughts on what happened in Manchester?

Billie: I think it was kind of right to get them out. It's just a shame that it had to happen right at the end, the last ten minutes.

kind of ganska

Billie says that you shouldn't sing in a theatre, and it's sad that it happened at the end of the musical.

Carrie: And what do you think Alisha?

Alisha: I just think it's a real shame, a real shame that a couple of people in the audience felt the need to ruin the entire experience for everybody else.

a couple of people
ett par personer

Alisha thinks that it's sad that two people ruined the show for everybody else.

audience

Carrie: Do you think it's always been like this, this, this kind of behaviour, or do you think it's gotten worse? Why do you think that is?

ruin
förstöra

Alisha: I do think that there is a direct link between like disruptive behaviour, abuse of front... of like, Front of House Staff, and then it sort of ties into sort of the excess of alcohol that's being allowed to sort of be served.

direct link
direkt koppling

Alisha says that some people drinking too much in the theatre makes it a bad experience for others.

disruptive

ties into knyts till

Carrie: And what do you think, Billie?

excess
överskott

Billie: I've seen that a lot of other people think that it's gotten worse since lockdown because people haven't been to theatres as much until recently. So, they're not used to what to do or there's like, maybe there's a new crowd going into theatres, I don't know. But I don't remember it being that bad before.

Billie thinks it has gotten worse because there are more people going to the theatre who haven't been before.

Thanks to Billie and Alisha.

The Super Mario Bros* breaking records

Music: Super Mario theme

Finally, the Super Mario Brothers movie has become the biggest movie of 2023.

The film tells the story of Mario and princess Peach fighting against King Bowser who wants to take over the world.

It earned more money in its first week than any other animated film ever.
